AIRA Announces the 2021 Best Practice Investor Relations Awards Winners

The winners of the 2021 Australasian Investor Relations Awards were announced today at the Annual AIRA Best Practice Investor Relations Awards.

The Australasian Investor Relations Awards recognise listed entities that have excelled in Investor Relations over the year. Winners are determined based on voting by domestic and international equities analysts and fund managers.

AIRA's CEO, Ian Matheson said, "being an award winner during such a challenging period is an incredible achievement. Investor relations professionals play an integral role as key communicators for listed entities and management, shareholders, analysts and the marketplace, and this year they navigated constant change. The IR environment transitioned to virtual AGM's, and listed entities needed to find new ways of staying connected with stakeholders during high levels of uncertainty whilst focussing on the rising emphasis on ESG and sustainability and a changing world."

In addition to the listed entities awards AIRA has three sell-side awards, to recognise corporate access and sales teams within investment banks and stockbroking firms who assist companies' access and connect with investors around the world. These award winners were determined based on voting from investor relations professionals from listed entities.
